ROCKVILLE HIGH SCHOOL.

The Closing Exercises Held in the Opera House.

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star.

ROCKVILLE, Md., June 21, 1899.

The closing exercises of the Rockville High School were held last evening in the Opera House, and were attended by an audience that completely filled the large hall. The program was well arranged and was admirably rendered. Mr. Andrew Wilson of Washington delivered an address, his subject being "Looking Forward." School Commissioner John G. England distributed diplomas to the following graduates: Misses Rena Braddock, Mary Brewer, Elsie England, Dual Leaman, Ella Robertson and Effie Small.

The following is the program as rendered: Invocation, Rev. Thomas J. Packard; song, "Maryland," the school; address of welcome, Gertie Chapman; recitation, "June," Maude England; recitation, "The Incape Rock," Maude Wenner; recitation, "Pictures of Memory," Dual Leaman; essay, Elsie England; vocal duet, "The Midnight Moon," Maude Cashell and Virginia Andrews; dialogue, "Little Chickens," boys of second grade; recitation, "A Boy's First Speech," Leonard Small; recitation, "Johnny Magee," Montgomery Owens; recitation, "Rienzi's Address to the Romans," Nicholas Brewer; recitation, "An Order for a Picture," Effie Small; recitation, "The Nicest Day," Stella Ogden; address, "Looking Forward," Mr. Andrew Wilson; instrumental duet, Misses Mary Trail and Virginia Andrews; recitation, "Aux Italiens," Mary Brewer; recitation, "A Boy's Belief," George Braddock; recitation, "Independence Bell," Maude Cashell; essay, Rena Braddock; recitation, "The Eagle," Viola Fowler; recitation, "Aunt Tabitha," Sada Heagy; vocal duet, "There's Music in the Air," Rena Braddock and Maude Cashell; recitation, "Mysterious," Mary Pumphrey; recitation, "The Height of Ridiculous," Roy Robertson; recitation, "Vacation," Tabitha Braddock; valedictory address, Ella Robertson; awarding of diplomas by Mr. John G. England; song, "Hail and Farewell," the graduates; benediction, Rev. G. Dorsey White.

Frederick Larkins, a resident of Madison street, was struck on the leg by a base ball yesterday afternoon and painfully injured. The ball was thrown by a boy, who was in the street playing with some companions. Larkin's injury was of such a character that a physician was summoned to attend him.
